BETHEL DEMOCRATS HOLD POST-ELECTION MEETING

The post-election meeting of the Bethel Democratic Town Committee took place on Sunday, Nov. 17, at the home of Emily Saunders.

After discussion of items pertaining to the recent election, Town Chairman Paul McGuire brought up the matter of future plans. The group decided to hold regular meetings on the second Sunday of each month, beginning in January 1975. These gatherings will take the form of discussions on issues concerning government at the state and local levels, and the local Democrats plan to invite guest speakers upon occasion. The topic for each session will be announced in advance and pertinent materials will be circulated for advanced reading.

It is hoped that such events will offer those interested in the theory and practice of government an opportunity to keep abreast of the political scene in Maine.

BLOOD DRAWING NOV. 25 AT BINGHAM HALL GYM

A final meeting before the SAD 44 region blood drawing was held on Monday morning in the Bethel Savings Bank.

Volunteers were pleased to learn that the people in the Bethel area have answered the call for donations in gratifying numbers. It is hoped that even more people will sign up before the drawing, which is scheduled to take place on Monday, Nov. 25, from 1 to 7 p. m. in the Bingham Hall Girls' Gymnasium on the Gould Academy campus.

If you need a ride in order to make your donation, please don't hesitate to call one of the following volunteer drivers, preferably as soon as possible, so every donor can be accommodated. Romeo Baker, 824-2908; George Marshall, 824-2513; George Noll, 824-2571; and Richard Verville, 824-2851.

Babysitters will be on hand to care for children while parents are donating.

Join your neighbors on Monday and give blood—it is a most worthwhile gift.

SNOW, RAIN, FOLLOW WEEK'S MILD WEATHER

Snow and rain on Wednesday, and additional snowy weather this Thursday morning follows a period of mild fall weather. Driving conditions have been difficult in some areas.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Taxes must be paid prior to Dec. 1 or interest of 1/2% per month will be imposed.

Signs have been erected, mostly along Main St., warning motorists of the all night parking ban. They should prevent some who are not aware of the ordinance from having to pay the $5.00 fine for leaving vehicles on the streets. The ban is effective from Nov. 1 to April 1. It does not apply to when it is snowing only. It is effective all the time during that period.

Water users will be faced with a 33% increase if the P. U. C. approves the requested rate increase. There appears to be no doubt but the request will be granted. Next year the Water District is faced with installing a filter on the system. It is known this has been needed for some time, now it is a law all above ground sources must be filtered. Estimates are being obtained on the cost of the necessary system which will involve not only the filter but also a building to house it.

LIONS LADIES' NIGHT HELD AT SUNDAY RIVER INN NOV. 19

The following attended the regular third Tuesday Ladies' Night of the Bethel Lions Club at the Sunday River Inn on Nov. 19: Mr. and Mrs. Jay Willard, Mr. and Mrs. John Rayne, Charles Farrar, Eugene Kelly, Eldon Greenleaf and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gienow. Invited guests were Tom Caton, speaking for the Bethel Health Council and Mrs. Arlene Greenleaf, representing the Bethel Emergency Ambulance and Rescue Service. Tom and Arlene filled us in on progress being made by the Health Council to establish much needed medical facilities in the Bethel area, and they told of the splendid work by the ambulance and Rescue Service. The small but interested group of Lions present pledged interest and support as soon as general plans and projects become specific.

S. A. D. 44 BOARD HEARS OF BUS COST INCREASE AT MONDAY MEETING

The board of directors of S. A. D. 44 held a regular meeting in the Lecture Hall at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening of this week.

The board approved the payment of $3,239.50 in excess of the original bid cost of new buses purchased by the district. Of the half dozen buses ordered, one has been delivered, with all of the others scheduled to be received within 20 to 30 days. The added cost is believed to be attributable to the inability of the manufacturer to furnish 1974 models in all cases. The late-arriving buses are to be 1975 models.

The directors approved a foreign student exchange project subject to the completion of investigation by Superintendent Basil Kinney with various state and federal agencies. Leilani Poland of the Telstar Student Council made the directors aware of the program available under the auspices of International Fellowship, Inc., Exchange Student Program. The program as regards Telstar would entail receiving a foreign student for a three or six month period at no expense to S. A. D. 44. There are no current plans for a Telstar student to go abroad.

A field trip to Boston on Nov. 26 by fifth grade students of John Emery and special education students of William Triestman at Crescent Park School was approved.

The board approved payment for a "bus stop" sign to be erected on Route 26 in Newry.

A temporary note in the amount of $50,000 for school operating expenses, with interest at 4.5% per annum, at Casco Bank and Trust Company, was approved.

Telstar Principal Brian G. Flynn in responding to a request of the Nov. 4 board meeting, made a progress report relating to discipline at Telstar. In an effort to afford greater accountability of students, all are required to return to home rooms prior to dismissal for buses or extra-curricular activities. Accountability was increased during "floating block" times at the school. Because of concern expressed by faculty, board, and citizens with regard to student behavior in corridors, basements, and other open areas that tended to be disruptive to classrooms, all areas of the building are more closely supervised. A faculty member is now assigned a corridor supervision in classroom areas of the building.

Opinions of two students present Monday night were divided on the effectiveness of the new procedures. One felt that it was a positive attempt, with initial steps functioning well, but needed more time and in some instances clarification. Another was of the opinion that restrictions put on the use of "floating block" worked to some student's disadvantage, tending to pigeon-hole students.

The board's personnel committee will meet in the conference room at Telstar at 7 o'clock on Monday evening, Nov. 25.

Board members not present Monday evening were: Leon Akers, James Bodwell, Andover; Parker Allen, Milton Mills, Woodstock.

The next regular meeting of the board will be held at Telstar Regional High School, Monday evening, Dec. 2.

Greenwood City —

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

It would be hard to imagine a more perfect autumn day to hike a bit of the Appalachian Trail than was Saturday, Nov. 9. On the spur of the moment Ruth and I decided to go somewhere. We thought we'd try a trail in Albany but when most into Bethel I said, "The day is so clear, I hope we are going where we can see something."

Ruth said, "Just woods from that trail."

We stopped, studied our trail book.

Our decision was the Eyebrow Trail in Grafton Notch with the remark, "We don't have to go any farther than we wish."

After finding its beginning from a gravel pit at a point one eighth mile north of the start of the Old Speck Trail we parked the car and were off. The trail passed around a huge boulder and began to ascend gradually through a beech and hardwood growth which had given its glory and treasures to the woodland path. Browned, final leaves were clinging, trembling, on the boughs laid bare in silhouette against the sky. In the path tall-tale shells of beech nuts were where squirrels made a goodly haul at the time brown nuts fall.

Samuel Taylor Coleridge once wrote; "Why is it that so many of us persist in thinking that autumn is a sad season? Nature has merely fallen asleep, and her dreams must be beautiful if we are to judge by her countenance." Certainly today the woodland scene held richness and delight.

We soon stopped for lunch which we enjoyed with the "Eyebrow," that massive cliff, some 1000 feet above us. Our menu of a sandwich, a drink from our dish, surely answered our hungered wish.

Then we went on remembering that the book said, "The view is spectacular, the ascent and descent are not difficult."

At times we noticed red berries among the leaves but none above at the time. Later we discovered the mountain ashes loaded with red clusters.

At times we disagreed with the book's "ascent not difficult" especially across a ledge, wet and lily icicles dripping near by. Not dangerous for there was plenty of clinging material. Just above we ascended steadily through mature coniferous growth, then reached the top. Here we proceeded along a series of rock outcrops and had a truly magnificent view of the whole Notch. Across the main road we could see Baldpate, a reminder of Frye Brook with its flume and cataracts and Tablerock where we had been several times. Old Speck with its steep climb of some over 4000 feet reminded us of our journey there when we were younger.

We took a few pictures then began to descend gradually into a U shaped pocket and onto the Cascade Brook Trail to finish a loop to our starting point.

From here all the way, we went through interesting forest area; some places covered with moss and ferns... much balsam... fairy like appearances like some of the Disney movie scenes. Maine is pretty.

A brook in the hill-lands is beautiful at any time; the change, the moods, reflected and magnified. This one, steep, white, noisy, and tumbling as we followed it step by step down with rails in places to help us with the three it's with which mountain trails are characterized; Rocks, Hoots, Erosion.

In places the stream became lazy and ripples subsided to stillness and a pool, shadowy, peaceful and cool reflected the charm of the gorgeous mountain berries and lush November ferns.

How we wished for sun for pictures but here it had set.

As we neared the trail's end we looked up and up and I said, "I just can't believe I stood at the top."

Ruth answered, "But we did even if we thought we'd never do it!"

Then we left amid the contented murmurings of Cascade Brook for gray shadows call an early dusk as we watch another season burn low.

Doris Hayes was in Portland on Friday to visit her sisters and go shopping.

Someone had fun Thursday night removing mailboxes. Ours was transported a quarter of a mile and left in the road. Five others were taken or destroyed.

CO-OP CORNER

Pamela Coolidge

The student in the Co-op Corner this week is Bob Brown, a junior at Telstar Regional High School.

Bob is employed at the Bethel Citizen Office by John Brown. He started work Oct. 7, 1974, so he is a fairly new student to the Co-Op Program. Bob's occupational goal is to pursue the Graphic Arts Trade so this placement should be very helpful to him in achieving this goal. Although currently working on spacing columns; making posters, letterheads and wedding invitations; operating the platen press; and sometimes working in the darkroom, he is looking forward to learning the operations of the linotype and the offset press. Bob finds the most challenging part of his employment to be the set-up process, i.

When Bob has free time for himself, he enjoys riding his motorcycle, hunting, fishing, snowmobiling, and he likes to travel when he gets the chance. A life-long resident of the district, Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Brown, Bethel.

I looked at the calendar to see if today was a holiday but didn't see any signs, only a plain 18. Many cars and hunters went down by so thought it might be a special day. Last week several deer went up by and on Saturday a very big one on a station wagon. Hope the hunters are careful.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barrett, Mildred Hazelton, were at Dr. Martin's in Bethel on Monday.

Michael Dexter doesn't think Nov. 13 is unlucky, for that is the day his wife presented him with a son. They also have two girls.

John O'Hearn and helpers were busy on the week end dressing pigs.

Callers at the Lawrence's, were Gerald Elliott, Lena Dean, Sandra Coffin and boys and Jim spent the week end; sister-in-law Agnes Coffin and her sister, Winola Millett.

Ellsworth Lawrence bought a car at Frank Perham's to replace the one his wife, Doris, owned as hers had konked out.

30 Seconds WITH THE NAZARENE

Rev. Barbara Huse, Pastor
Bethel Church of the Nazarene

We are now entering the season of Thanksgiving. It is a great privilege to live in America. Of course we are aware of the many serious problems, the great needs of our beloved land. Think of our history and our wonderful heritage. Oh I know it is not all good. We cannot be proud of all and there are many regrets. A nation and a people can learn from their mistakes if they will. Maybe we are being given one more opportunity.

Friends, pray a heartfelt prayer together. Oh dear Lord, bless America with a Great Spirit of Revival. Help us to be truly thankful of our heritage of Faith. Those of us who are privileged to live in New England are surrounded by reminders of this heritage. Sometimes it may seem that all the beauty, the true values, are being destroyed by man's greed, all in the name of progress.

Pollution of our land is a real problem, but pollution of minds and lives even more so. What is more lovely than a rose. Our roses, too must have thorns, so what we have really been trying to lead up to is this: May we learn to be thankful for the thorns. God talking about this in the Bible for he said in God's word "In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you," I Thessalonians 4:18.

CRYING/SIGHING ABOUT N. E. ECONOMY SHOULD END —SAYS BOSTON BANKER

"The time for crying and sighing about the New England economy has come to an end," Dr. James M. Howell, vice president and chief economist of The First National Bank of Boston, told the 44th Annual Conference of the Southern Economic Association last week.

Appearing on the energy panel with Senator William Proxmire (D-Wis.), incoming chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, Howell contended that some sections of the nation think New England is asking for foreign rather than Federal aid in relation to the high cost of energy in that region.

"I am sure," Howell said, "that in some parts of the nation, like Wisconsin, Texas, or Louisiana, we must sometimes seem like the national crybabies, asking for equalization of energy costs but unwilling to undertake our own offshore search for oil, demanding environmental restrictions far above the national standards and generally asking other parts of the nation to assume the environmental impact on our behalf. 'Well, we are just going to have to face the stark facts that high energy costs are having a debilitating effect on our region and our time for sighing has come to an end; it must be replaced with an active search and seizure program if we are able to identify and develop available energy supplies in our region.'"

Howell also observed that, "I know Senator Proxmire sometimes gives the impression that he considers banks in general to be something less than progressive and, with New England in the attic of the country, our bankers would appear to be all the way on the back bench. For the past five years, our bank has been in the forefront in reporting on the New England economy as it really is, both in relation to government spending and energy costs. At the same time that we urge New England to undertake offshore drilling, construction of refineries and other energy-producing measures, we ask temporary equalization of energy costs through a Federal allocation program.

HOWE NAMED TO PHI ALPHA THETA

Stanley R. Howe of Bethel was recently initiated as a member of Phi Gamma Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta. Founded at the University of Arkansas on March 17, 1921, the membership of this honor society is composed of students and professors who have been elected upon the basis of excellence in the study of history. With chapters in all 50 states, the membership of Phi Alpha Theta since organization exceeds some 80,000. Phi Gamma Chapter was officially chartered at the University of Maine at Orono on May 20, 1974.

"The recent election returns would seem to indicate," Dr. Howell said that, "in January we will have a more consumer-minded Congress and we're for that. But escalating energy costs, whether in New England or elsewhere, mean higher consumer costs. So, while I believe we are about ready to replace the crying towel in New England with rolled-up sleeves, we will need a little help and understanding from Uncle Sam relative to the short-term costs of energy and its allocation. 'We will have to show our good faith in tackling the problems by getting underway with the offshore drilling and refinery construction in order to gain the temporary oil allocation—not only with respect to quality but at an equitable price—that are vital to our economic survival.'" cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth."

One of the hymns to be sung contains these lines:

"In mercy, in goodness, how great is our King;
Our tribute, thanksgiving, with glad hearts we bring.
Thou art the Renewer, the Ancient of Days,
Who givest, for mourning, the garment of praise."

lief is based. Perhaps I can set his mind at ease somewhat by informing him that if New York City had any "wisdom and enlightenment" it would not be in its present inextricable mess. That I firmly believe.

The second item that attracted my attention and about which I wrote you was the use of the noun "jury" as a verb, a use which I questioned.

Sam McCoy came to the rescue with the announcement that jury is indeed a noun only but since "language serves the art of communication, whatever well serves that art should be acceptable even to purists". The use of the word "art" in itself implies an esthetic, pleasing and meaningful arrangement of words. I think that the refinements of language deserve preservation. The bastardization of the English language and others could make the confusion created by the Tower of Babel a picnic. In time we may even revert to signs and grunts. Why not? We now have unsex clothes, games, mores, rules, jobs and what not! Why not a unilanguage for the world where anything goes even "ain't it." It might cramp your style Sam, but you may have struck oil. Carry on!

Sincerely yours,
Mark Cymrot

Parents,
Has your child come home from school with a football? Little James Cobb, a first grader at the Locke Mills school, saved his pennies and bought a football. Being a friendly child he wished to share it with his playmates at school. He wrote his name (probably erasable) on the football and took it to school. The football disappeared from a paper bag in the school corridor. Why not have the child return the football? It might help him to be an honest citizen in later years.

M.D.O.T. NIGHT PATROL BEGINS WINTER DUTY ON MAIN-TRAVELED ROADS

The night patrol of the Maine Department of Transportation, which keeps a winter watch on Maine highways, has started its first full week of seasonal duty. The patrols alert plowing and sanding crews when a storm moves into the state.

The night patrol covers about 2,000 miles of main-traveled highways including 233 miles of Interstate Highway. Besides calling out department plows when needed, the patrolmen carry enough sand in their trucks to cover short icy sections of highway in dangerous locations and are prepared to aid motorists in distress.

The patrols, beginning their 21st season along the highways, follow this general routine during their nightly round of duty: The patrolmen contact their division offices by radio at least once each hour, through the night, reporting weather and road conditions. This information is passed on by the division offices to the department's headquarters office in Augusta every two hours. Every day at 6:00 a. m. and 10:00 p. m. a state-wide report is made available by the Augusta office to the Presque Isle, Ellsworth, Bangor, Portland and Dixfield division offices.

All of this information—late reports on local highway conditions as well as the state-wide report—is made available to news services and the general public at the above listed offices any time of day or night. Information can also be obtained from the Fairfield and Rockland offices Monday through Friday from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Motorists may wish to make a note of the telephone number of the Dixfield division highway office so they can take advantage of this road condition reporting service: U. S. Rt. 2 - telephone 562-42

"SUDBURY INN" FEATURED IN NOVEMBER ISSUE OF "TRAVEL"

The Sudbury Inn in Bethel has been featured in an article in the November issue of "Travel" magazine, a national publication. Written by Norman T. Simpson, the article is titled "A Country Inn Thanksgiving", and details the sumptuous holiday dining at The Sudbury Inn. He describes the hearty fare available, such as roast turkey and trimmings, roast beef, clam casserole, fresh candied yams, Indian pudding, and mince-meat pie... just a portion of the holiday offering.

The Sudbury Inn has been operating as an Inn for over one hundred years, and under its present ownership for two years. The Innkeepers, John and Beverley Gasser, try to operate as a real country inn by doing all the little things that people appreciate, and by giving the personal touch that is being lost as the hotel business becomes so commercialized.

The Inn is currently one of the inns in a book titled "Country Inns and Back Roads" by The Berkshire Traveller.

REGISTER YOUR SNOWMOBILE EARLY!!

The first snowfall of the winter is undoubtedly coming soon, and Maine's snowmobilers are urged to take care of their registrations now, to avoid the last-minute rush.

Lorenzo A. Gaudreau, director of the snowmobile registration office in Augusta, says that registrations to date are about 2,000 behind last year at this time.

"If people take care of their registrations now, we can give them quick service," Gaudreau said. "And if they mail their applications to the office, which we urge them to do, we can process them and return them in one day."

Gaudreau added that it is easier on everyone—standing in line or working in the office—if people register their machines early.

Those who come to Augusta and register their snowmobiles in person should remember that the Fish and Game Dept. has moved to 284 State Street, where parking is easier and the wait even shorter than it was at the State Office Building.

Maine has reciprocity with New Hampshire, Vermont, and the provinces of Quebec and New Brunswick only, Gaudreau said, when it comes to snowmobile registration. Maine snowmobilers may operate in these four areas with their Maine registrations, and visitors from the above areas need not obtain Maine registrations. All others must operate under a Maine registration, although they may use the Maine decal and certificate without replacing their state's numerals.

JUNIOR RACING, FREESTYLE PROGRAMS TO BEGIN AT SUNDAY RIVER

The Junior Racing and Freestyle Programs at Sunday River Ski Area in Bethel, will begin with films, demonstrations, and free on-the-snow instruction at pre-program registration clinics to be held this December.

Sunday River's Junior Racing Program will begin Dec. 7 with training scheduled on week ends and school vacations until March.

A free on-the-snow clinic for all prospective racers will be held at the ski area on Dec. 1.

Under the direction of Tim Loughlin and Bob Harkins, the Junior Racing Program offers training and racing experience in all Alpine events with an emphasis on slalom and giant slalom.

Participants can compete in 19 Eastern Ski Association races to be held at Sunday River and throughout the Northeast during the season.

A movie camera will be used again this year so that racers can criticize their own form and progress when they see it on film.

The Sunday River Freestyle Program will begin on Dec. 21 and run for 15 Saturdays this season.

The program is open to all skiers aged 6 to 18 who can do a parallel turn. Two free pre-program classes for those who need to work on their turns will be held at the ski area from 10:30 a. m. to noon on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 14 and 15.

A general registration meeting featuring films on Freestyle skiing will be held on Saturday, Dec. 14 at 4:30 p. m. in the Base Lodge.

The Sunday River Freestyle Program is under the supervision of Ski School Director Tommy Walker. He will be assisted by instructor John Buck.

Freestyle skiing is divided into four categories: stunt and ballet, mogul skiing, aerials, and final form. The Sunday River Freestyle Program gears instruction to the age, size and ability of the student.

"Sunday River's Freestyle Program emphasizes safety, fun, and proficiency on skis. Instructors encourage Freestylers to create and refine their routines, but they don't forget the students who enter the program just to have fun," Tommy Walker said.

Freestylers can attend meets on the local, state, and New England levels, including the U. S. National Amateur Freestyle competition to be held at Killington Ski Resort, Sunday River's big sister in Vermont, on March 7, 8, and 9. The Sunday River Ski Club has also offered to host a Freestyle meet.

Both the Junior Racing Program and the Freestyle Program require membership in the Eastern Ski Association. The fee for the Junior Racing program is $75 and the Freestyle Program is $65. Checks may be made payable to the Sunday River Ski Area.

To register or for more information please contact Tommy Walker, Director Sunday River Ski School, Box 601, Bethel, Maine, 04217.

SUNDAY RIVER SKI AREA OPENED SATURDAY, NOV. 16

Sunday River Ski Area opened for the season Saturday, Nov. 16, with limited skiing on man-made snow on the half mile long Mixing Bowl Slope. Snowmaking crews at the ski area worked through the night and established themselves a reputation for being "the fastest snow guns in Maine" as they built a skiable base on the Mixing Bowl in just under twelve hours of operation. As soon as the Mixing Bowl is adequately covered, the snow guns will be started up on the 6200 foot long Ectasy-Cascade Trail which winds its way down from the top of the 1500 foot main mountain. This year the snowmakers are backed up by 800 gallons per minute of water and 4500 cubic feet per minute of air and will be able to provide a whole lot of snow in a relatively short time. Last year Sunday River had the longest ski season of any ski area in Maine. This year they hope to exceed last years 160 days.

DRIVERS URGED TO PREPARE BOTH 'SELVES AND CARS' FOR WINTER DRIVING

The Maine State Police cautions drivers to prepare both themselves and their automobiles for the winter driving days ahead.

"More dangerous than frequent periods of rain or fog in late autumn are those times when sudden temperature drops will freeze roadway surfaces on bridges and underpasses," says Colonel Donald E. Nichols, Chief, Maine State Police.

Persons traveling should stay aware of outside temperatures and, when in doubt, slow down on the approach to bridge crossings, Col. Nichols said.

Car owners should get their vehicles winterized and in good mechanical shape before the onset of ice and snow. If needed, wiper blades should be replaced, exhaust systems checked, and tires should be in good condition.

Motorists are advised to carry an emergency kit containing jumper cables, flares or reflectors, a flashlight, first aid kit, a blanket, and some basic automotive tools, Col. Nichols said.

Five speakers will address the Saturday morning session of the Conference which will take place at the Center for Research and Advanced Study on UMPG's Portland campus. They will each introduce a different means of using natural resources to obtain energy.

Douglas Wilke, an architect and engineer, will give the first address on the topic, "Solar Heating and the Moderate Priced House." He will be followed by Forrest Stoddard, an MIT graduate and a doctoral candidate in civil engineering, who will speak to the participants on "Small - Scale Wind Energy Devices."

Other speakers will be: Clinton C. Kemp, an MIT graduate and vice president of Intertechnology Corporation of Virginia, who will speak on "Wood Utilization and the Energy Plantation;" William J. Jewel, associate professor of agricultural engineering at Cornell University, whose topic will be "Energy from Animal Wastes;" and William Heronemus, professor of civil engineering of the University of Massachusetts and former member of the NASA Energy Panel, who will address the Conference on "Off-Shore Wind Energy and Other Large Scale Energy Projects."

In the afternoon participants will have the opportunity for informal discussion with each of the speakers on particular projects for alternate energy sources and on the alternate energy field in general.

The Conference will close with an address by Charles Berg, engineering consultant for the Maine Office of Energy Resources, who will speak on the topic, "Now Where, and How Do We Get There?"
